

Interest In Local Offices Still Low As Big Day Nears

As Pickaway County voters approach the eve of Tuesday's national election, top political figures have become concerned over the "lack of interest in local offices."

However, Democratic bigwigs here expressed a note of optimism Saturday for their party and predicted close to 12,000 ballots would be cast to better the 11,359 total vote of Pickaway County in 1944.

Karl Herrmann, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, said flatly he expected Pickaway Counties to vote a predominately Democratic ticket.

Meanwhile, Tom Renick head of the county Republican executive committee, took a more conservative viewpoint on the outcome of Tuesday's election. Said he:

"We prefer to play a wait and see game, but I think we'll be saying 'See, I told you so,' when the results of the election show up Wednesday morning."

The Democratic chairman said a large vote can be expected because of the presidential race. "There is always more interest when the big office is at stake," Herrmann declared.

Both Renick and Herrmann were of the opinion there was enough interest in the presidential and gubernatorial races to cause the county's busy farmers to leave their fields and go to the polls.

Main talk on street corners and in courthouse offices centered mostly around the lack of interest in Pickaway County political races.

Most familiar quote is: "This is the quietest election I can remember." Most of the 15 candidates for office here agree.

County board of election has set the gears for the poll machinery to begin at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday in the 41 precincts.

Predictions are varied in the Ohio governor's race. Most politicians agree it will be a close battle between Republican incumbent Thomas J. Herbert and his Democratic opponent, Former Governor Frank J. Lausche.

Even some of the most conservative spokesmen in Pickaway County politics concede a victory for Republican Thomas E. Dewey over President Harry S. Truman.

Other races that will be watched closely will be the 11th district representatives to Congress and representative-at-large to Congress.

Republican Walter E. Brehm, Logan incumbent, is being challenged for his representative's seat by Democrat

Joseph C. Allen of New Lexington. At-large candidates are George H. Bender, Republican, and Stephen M. Young, Democrat.

H. E. Louis, representative to the state general assembly is inopposed in this election. He is a Republican. However, the four candidates for two seats in the state senate promise a hard-fought scramble.

They are Republicans Evert E. Addison and Roscoe R. Walcutt, incumbents, and their Democrat opponents, Evan P. Ford and Robert O. Read.

Following is the slate of 15 Pickaway County candidates for office:

County Commissioner, two seats: John Keller, Democrat incumbent; William J. Goode, Democrat; and Republicans Richard H. Hedges and Fred E. Moeller.

Probate Judge: Sterling M. Lamb, Republican incumbent; and George Young, Democrat.

Prosecuting Attorney: Kenneth M. Robbins, Republican incumbent; and Guy Cline, Democrat.

Clerk of Courts: Arthur L. Wilder, Democrat incumbent; and Edward Amey, Republican.

The remaining five candidates are unopposed and already are in office:

Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Democrat; Recorder Florence T. Campbell, Democrat; Treasurer Robert G. Colville, Democrat; Engineer Henry T. McCrady, Democrat; and Coroner Lloyd Jones, Republican.

375 Trudge Route As Halloweeners Vie For Prizes

Youngsters, Oldsters Alike Take Part In C of C Annual Fete

The revelry and spirit of the 1948 Halloween season did not go unnoticed by Circleville schools, homes, church groups and the Chamber of Commerce annual costume parade.

Hundreds of Circleville children, and a few oldsters, dug deep into old closets to come out with apparel befitting only the night when the witches ride and the ghouls rise up to walk again.

Approximately 375 entrants were listed in the C of C costume parade Friday night where more than $165 in cash prizes were awarded and popcorn balls given to each costumed youngster.

Parade judges were Mrs. J. C.

Rader, Miss Elizabeth Hilyard, Mrs. John McGinnis and Miss Louise Moore. Substituting for Don Henkle as master of ceremonies was John Heiskell.

Judging was conducted at Ted Lewis park, termination point of the parade. The procession stretched almost the length of Court street from its starting point near the postoffice.

PRIZES WERE awarded in seven events and ranged from $5- first to 50 cents for last place.

Following are the winners and events in which they were entered:

The grand prize was awarded to Nina Rogers and Leona Kendall for their impersonation of Mr. and Mrs. Pumpkin Head.

Boys and girls up to six years of age: First, Anne Goetting; second, Dorothy Ellen Thompson; third, Paul Francis and Karen Conley; fourth, Michael Akire; fifth, Martha Ann Samuel; sixth, Byron Bell.

Six to 10 years of age: First, Sandy McAllister, Florene Goldschmidt, Barbara Samuels, Joanna Goldschmidt and Joan Vaughn; second, Brent Bell; third, Teddy Wellington; fourth, Tommy Howell; fifth, Denny Lutz; sixth, Sandra Sue Hall. Special (Continued on Page Two)

PATRICK J. FLEMING, ex-convict from Colorado, relaxes behind bars in San Francisco after a two-month bourbon "bust." Discovering a false ceiling above the men's room in a tavern, Fleming would hide there until the tavern closed, then help himself to free whiskey, cigars, food and juke box nickels. A toppled bottle, causing a leak in the ceiling, was his undoing.

Peru Chief Is Unseated

Democratic Poll Now Is Promised

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 30—A Rightist military junta seized power in Peru today after overthrowing President Juan Luis Bustamante Y Rivero.

The first act of the junta was to promise the holding of democratic elections soon.

Gen. Manuel Odría, chief of the junta, announced that he will head a provisional government until the elections and reestablishment of a democratic government. He made the announcement in a radio talk from Arequipa, center of the revolt.

Meanwhile, President Bustamante and his close associates were forced into exile in Buenos Aires.

Odría's junta includes Gen. Federico Hurtado, commander of the Lima garrison, and Gen. Zenon Noriega, who has taken over the presidential palace in Lima until Odría arrives.

Noriega took an active part in the capture of the leaders of the alleged Leftist revolt of last month in Callao which Bustamante's government quelled.

Odría, in his radio speech to the nation from Arequipa, 450 miles southeast of Lima, said: "All kinds of exactions, cheating and crime have been tolerated until now. The nation's youth has been corrupted. I will put an end to such practices."

He asked the cooperation of all citizens with the "high and inspired principles of the victorious revolution."

In a previous statement, Odría had said "the incapacity of the president has given to Peru a sombre period of mistakes."

One Candidate Made A Gain

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—Be it Dewey or Truman after next Tuesday's presidential election at least one independent candidate for the White House will have something to show for his efforts.

John Maxwell, 86-year-old Chicagoan who heads the Vegetarian Party ticket, found a wife during his campaign.

His runningmate, Symond Gould, disclosed the news that the Chicagoan was married last week, but Maxwell insisted despite Gould's announcement that he has been married for "some time." Said Gould:

"Guess he is despairing of being elected and wanted to accomplish something during the campaign."

Nearly $10 Million Spent On Election

GOP Leading Spending Spree; Big Campaigns Nearing End

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Almost $10 million have been spent so far in the 1948 election campaign on the basis of financial reports filed with Congress.

Final pre-election statements showed the Republican national committee in the lead with $2,052,287 spent up to five days before the Nov. 2 balloting.

The Democrats were next with $1,674,760, or $332,527 less than the Republicans. The report of the Democratic national committee revealed also that the party was in the red financially $159,846.

Election reports filed so far with the clerk of the House of Representatives listed expenditures totaling $9,216,028. This figure is certain to be boosted much higher, however, when later pre-election reports come in. Not included in the total are late expenditures by the Progressive Party of Henry A. Wallace and the CIO Political Action Committee.

Aussies Urge Balkan Parley

PARIS, Oct. 30 — Australia urged Greece today to settle her differences with her Communist-dominated neighbor states at a roundtable discussion.

In a surprise move, Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson also urged the United Nations Political Committee to make conciliation the chief function of the UN Balkan Commission.

He argued that the commission cannot be "at the same time detective, prosecutor, and judge, and yet a neighbor."

Hodgson suggested that Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria could compose their differences, which arise from the (Continued on Page Two)

David S. Dunlap Dies In Home At Age Of 72

David Stein Dunlap, one of Pickaway County's most prominent businessmen, died in his Circleville home about 11:45 p. m. Friday. He was 72 years of age.

Born Aug. 29, 1876, on East Main street, Circleville, Mr. Dunlap died following a lingering illness.

A man who spent his entire life farming in Pickaway Township, Mr. Dunlap, although of a retiring nature, nevertheless was one of the best-known and best-liked farmers in this area.

He was a charter member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and was host to the annual Elks picnic on his farm. Although unable to attend the 1948 picnic, he nonetheless insisted the affair continue in a grove on his farm.

He was a director of Circleville Second National Bank, and had been a member of the board of directors of Pickaway Children's Home, director of Berger (Continued on Page Two)

Lausche, Herbert Pitted In Cleveland Word Battle

By International News Service

Gov. Thomas Herbert and Ex-Gov. Frank J. Lausche climax their campaigns in Cleveland today as they meet in the last major battle of words before next Tuesday's battle of ballots.

The occasion is the traditional City Club Debate, followed by the equally-traditional question-and-answer program. The Barkeeps Offer To Keep Babies

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 30—Decatur bartenders offered today to take the big jump from booze bottles to baby bottles.

Members of Local 23 of the AFL-Bartenders, Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union said their services were available as baby-sitters on Tuesday to allow mothers to get to the polls. Taverns close during voting hours.

Herbert has been in Cleveland since Wednesday, trying desperately to cut down the lead his Democratic opponent is certain to pile up in populous Cuyahoga County, which casts one-sixth of the total state vote.

With a record statewide vote of three and a half million predicted, that would mean some 600,000 ballots cast in the county.

Lausche apparently picking up strength returned to Cleveland after a day in industrial Toledo. He will make a flying trip to Youngstown tonight. Otherwise, both candidates will remain in Cleveland until the election.

8 Injured, Another Is Missing

Dozen Jump To Safety

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—Two unidentified persons were killed and eight persons injured today in a fire that destroyed a 35-family apartment house on Chicago's south side.

Another person was missing and feared dead.

Firemen found the two victims while searching the smoking ruins of the building.

More than a dozen persons were forced to jump from the windows of the building while 100 men, women and children fled through the smoke and flames to the street.

Joseph Moss Jr., 18, who lives on the third floor, reported he was awakened by sirens on fire equipment. He tore the screen from his smoke filled room and jumped to the roof of an adjacent two-story building, escaping injury. He continued:

"I looked down and saw several people lying in the courtyard. It was getting too hot to stay longer so I jumped."

CAUSE OF the fire, which did about $25,000 damage, was not immediately determined.

Fires were started in several other houses in the neighborhood by flying sparks, but all these were quickly extinguished.

Herald Readies Special Edition On Poll Results

The Circleville Herald will publish a special election edition early Wednesday.

The edition, scheduled to come off the presses before dawn following Election Day, will give a roundup of all national, state and local contests and the obvious winners.

The regular Wednesday edition will contain all available unofficial totals. It is due off the presses about mid-afternoon.

In cooperation with International News Service, which provides The Herald with worldwide news coverage, this paper has made exhaustive plans to cover Tuesday's elections in every dramatic detail with an all-star array of reporters and writers.

Truman Expects Youth Backing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—President Truman predicted today that the youth of the nation would vote heavily for him.

Mr. Truman, in a statement released in Washington said:

"I am confident that the young men and women of America will not join hands this year with those who would turn the clock back and would destroy the great social and economic advances we have made in the last 15 years."

TWO THOMAS DEWEYS will appear on the election ballot in Ohio's Sandusky County, the second being Thomas F. Dewey, who is running for a county office. However, the resemblance doesn't end there. Like his more famous namesake, the Ohio Dewey attended the University of Michigan, but 12 years later. Then, without realizing that the New York Dewey had named his sons Thomas Jr., and John, the Ohio Dewey selected the same names for his two sons. The Ohio Dewey is shown with wife, Martha, and boys.

Amputees Plan Demonstration

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30—Amputees will show how little they are "crippled" tomorrow in special demonstrations before the 29th annual meeting of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children.

The amputees will show their skill in such diversified activities as roller skating, badminton, golf, boxing and dancing.

Some 300 teachers, nurses and doctors were attending the two-day conclave which opened today.

Walter A. Zaugg, president of the society, and Dr. Tennyson Guyer, author, are the featured speakers at tonight's banquet.

Kingston Lass Is Winner Of Cute Child Photo Contest

Here are the winners in The Circleville Herald's "Cute Child" Contest.

Selections were made by a panel of judges for the Woltz Studios, Inc., experts who photographed more than 100 youngsters in the Circleville trading area.

Eldon A. Woltz, head of the firm, said that first prize winner, as named by the judges, is Donna, the daughter of Ronald Pontious of Kingston. She appears at top left in the photo.

Second place went to Karen, curly-headed daughter of Mahlon Stump of Laurelville Route 2, top right.

accomplishments, and declared that a "log-jam" in highway construction inherited from the Lausche regime was "one of the major problems which confronted us when we came into office two years ago." The governor stated:

"During the past two years this administration has constructed and improved 2,000 miles of highways, compared with 950 miles during the two years of my opponent.

"We have built 231 bridges, compared with 103 during the previous administration."

Reporting that $68 million in highway contracts have been let since he came into office, Herbert continued:

"The fact is that at the present time we are engaged in the greatest highway construction program in the history of the state, from the standpoint of number and dollar value of contracts. We are surpassing any previous administration."

Lausche meanwhile charged that much of his opposition stemmed from "political bosses, racketeers, extreme reactionaries and extreme radicals."

Declaring that he would continue to strive to serve the great mass of the people, the Democratic candidate said he had thus incurred the opposition of "pressure groups and special interests."

He added that he had "repeatedly stepped on the toes of those who wanted special privileges from government."

In Toledo, Lausche urged cost-of-living increases for public employees, particularly teachers, and charged that the Republicans were "tampering with civil service employees."

He said that the administration had sent floods of letters to public workers, "begging for political support, which constitutes a very real attempt to frighten them."

In 1906, he married Bessie Parker, who also survives. Others surviving are a brother, Harry J. Dunlap of Dayton a Beach, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. William Sanders of Millersburg, Ky.; two step-daughters, Mrs. Ralph Cole and Mrs. William Mitchell; six step-grandchildren, all of Columbus.

government to help America maintain a prosperous peace. More confident than ever of victory in next Tuesday's election, the GOP candidate ended 17,000 miles of unsensational campaigning in the city where his record as a young racket-buster gave him his start toward the White House.

Dewey's nationally-broadcast speech tonight will be the 169th of his 1948 campaign.

In all, he has spoken in 27 states. Only a brief election-eve radio talk Monday night—an expected "get out the vote" appeal—remained on his itinerary.

Dewey aides said his speech tonight will be a summation of the points laid down in his nationwide campaign, which began Sept. 20 with a speech in Rock Island, Ill., and carried from border to border and coast to coast.

Swinging back into New York through Connecticut, Dewey reviewed most of the promises and charges he has made in his second bid for the presidency. He pledged himself to "teamwork" with the new Congress, a promise which was confirmed by House Speaker Martin, (R) Mass., and promised a "House-cleaning" in Washington starting Jan. 20.

Dewey declared that the Truman administration seeks to "rip this country apart" by talk which he said "divides one class from another."

PRESIDENT Truman also sped down the home stretch of his fighting campaign for a White House and congressional victory.

The chief executive winds up his two-month coast-to-coast marathon fight against what he calls Republican "forces of reactionism" tonight in St. Louis.

The President will summarize the campaign issues he has pounded home relentlessly back in his own home state.

A two-week period of evangelistic services will begin Sunday at Evangelical United Brethren church in Yellowbud.

Special workers who will be in charge of these services are the Rev. and Mrs. Melvin George of Pleasantville.

Meetings will begin each evening at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Mr. George and his wife have been actively engaged in the holding of evangelistic meetings for the past two years. Prior to this, they served for six years in pastorates of the South-east Ohio conference of the United Brethren church. Their work has taken them into Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia as well as working extensively in Ohio.

The leading of singing will be under the direction of both Rev. and Mrs. George as they will lead in gospel singing as well as presenting instrumental numbers, choruses and novelty numbers.

These workers are not new to this area as they have held services in Mt. Pleasant Methodist church and on the Pickaway Circuit of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

This German girl sicks cereal milled from grain given by American farmers through the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP). The shipping of whole grain provides employment as well as relief.

Thousands of additional orphans, widows, aged, and other needy will be fed this winter by grain now being contributed to food trains throughout America. By Thanksgiving 30 states are expected to have assembled trains.

The CROP program is sponsored nationally by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief. Farm organizations everywhere are cooperating.

Children's Parley Arranged

Ohio and national church leaders will be featured at the Children's Work Regional Conference to be held in Columbus Nov. 8-10 at Hotel Seneca, according to Miss Dorothea Wolcott, conference chairman.

Sessions will begin Monday, Nov. 8, at 10:30 a. m. and continue through Wednesday noon Nov. 10. Addresses, worship study groups, a panel discussion, a fellowship dinner, and a public meeting will be highlights.

The conference is sponsored by the International Council of Religious Education, Chicago, the Ohio Council of Churches, and the Franklin County Council of Churches.

Miss Mildred Widber, national director of children's work for the Congregational Christian churches, Boston, will give the opening address on the conference theme, "For Children Everywhere," and will lead a study group on "The Faith of Our Children."

Miss Lois Blankenship, national children's work director for the Northern Baptist convention, Philadelphia, will give the closing message Wednesday at 11:00 a. m. on the evangelistic topic "Lifting Our Sights," and will lead a study group on "The Educational Basis for a Religious Program for Children."

Dr. Laura Zirbes of Ohio State university will speak at a mass meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Broad Street Presbyterian church. Her topic will be "Our Responsibilities as Teachers."

A panel on "The Child—The Church—The Community" will be held Tuesday at 9:15 a. m. Participants include Miss Alva Edwards, principal of South high school, Columbus; Paul Armstrong, of the Akron Council of Churches; and Mrs. Litta Robertson, director of home and community department, Ohio Farm Bureau.

Miss Florence Martin of Dayton will speak on "New Trends in Curriculum" Tuesday afternoon.

The following study groups are scheduled: "Faith of Our Children," "Understanding Children," "Educational Basis for a Religious Program for Children," "The Common Task of Home Reconstruction."

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Wise Solomon, King of Israel, advised children to "hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother."

When a quarrel seems to be brewing, remember that: "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger."

About the lazy and those that slight their jobs Solomon says: "He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster."

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches and loving favor rather than silver and gold."

MEMORY VERSE—Proverbs 16:20.

ANTI-NAZI GENERAL
WALTER von Brauchitsch, German commander-in-chief from 1938 to 1941, is died of coronary thrombosis while awaiting trial for war crimes. He belonged to the Prussian pre-Hitler type of army officer, and was known to have liberal economic views and to dislike the Nazis. His appointment to head the army in 1938 came as a surprise. The reason seems to have been that Hitler wanted to make a change at the top, but did not yet feel free to install one of his own puppets. It was more prudent to put in a man of standing like von Brauchitsch, who did not belong to his clique.
Brauchitsch carried through the conquest of Poland and France very competently. In the war against Russia he had charge of the first great German gains. Nevertheless he was always opposed to starting an Eastern front, and even after the invasion of Russia started kept urging Hitler to get out while the going was good. For this Hitler accepted his resignation in 1941, and never reemployed him in a post of real responsibility.
This was all to the good of the Allies. While some of Brauchitsch's successors, like Rundstedt, were fully as able or more so, there were plenty of places where the Nazis could have used another outstanding general. As sometimes happens in democratic countries also, the necessities of politics seriously damaged the German war machine.

SEEING THE EARTH
WORKING with cameras mounted in rockets, like those built by the Germans for the purpose of bombarding the British Isles, experimenters have obtained pictures of the earth from as high as 70 miles above the surface. From such heights, with the camera aimed at a favorable angle, single pictures covering areas hundreds of miles long have been taken.
None but the grossly uneducated doubt these days that the world is round, but as a matter of fact there is precious little direct proof of the shape of the globe, and of the land and water masses on it. Maps and charts and globes have been made almost entirely by surface survey methods, and until the rocket experiments began no human eye or camera eye ever was carried more than a few miles above the surface of the earth to gaze downward and see what it really looks like.
Modern surveying methods are believed to be very accurate, and so it is not expected that photography from great heights will reveal any startling differences from the way things previously have been pictured. But parents and teachers of the future may have an easier time with skeptical young questioners if they can simply say: "Here's a snapshot of the earth; see for yourself."
A wise man doesn't judge men or nations by the crowds they create.

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days
Altogether apart from partisanship, even ignoring the campaign, Harry Truman's recent speech in Chicago must be reported as a dangerously vicious document which can and may bring harm to this country for years to come. It was a new low in political campaigning, because it sought to stir racial and religious hatred and bigotry with the object of frightening what he calls "minorities" into voting as a bloc on election day.
This is what he said:
"The tragic story of what happened in Germany is all too fresh. We know how Hitler used anti-Semitic propaganda as a way of stupefying the German people with false ideas which he reached out for power. 'This was not the first time such a thing has happened. The persecution of minorities goes hand in hand with the destruction of liberty.'
"This country has been mercifully spared extreme racial and religious strife, but in recent years there has been a new outcropping of demagogues among us. Dangerous men, who are trying to win followers for their war on democracy, are attacking Catholics and Jews, and Negroes and other minority races and religions.
"Some of these demagogues have even dared to raise the voices of religious prejudice in the Eightieth Congress. We need only remember the shocking Displaced Persons Bill passed in the second session of the Eightieth Congress, which cruelly discriminated against Catholics and Jews."

The danger is not that this kind of speech-making will produce votes for or against Truman; it is rather that these irresponsible, maladroitness statements will leave a mark upon popular thinking on the subject of race and religious relations. Instead of using his high office to achieve national unity to halt the segmentation of our country into races, classes, creeds, religions, originating nationalities, functional activities—a segmentation to which the Communists and other enemies of America have devoted themselves—Harry Truman accelerates this trend and uses his high office to provide a moral sanction for it.
Unfortunately, the fears that men live by in this miserable era are only too real not to flare up on the least incitation.
The quarrel between Gov. Thomas Dewey and Senator Revercomb over the Displaced Persons Act requires explanation. This act provides for the admission into the United States of 205,000 displaced persons from Europe for permanent residence.
Dewey was opposed to certain characteristics of the bill as limiting the type of displaced persons to be admitted and he requested Revercomb, who was in charge of it, to amend it. Senator Vandenberg, Herbert Brownell, and other important Republicans made a similar request.
Revercomb declined to accept their judgment, which was his right under the law. The bill was passed and signed by Harry Truman, although he stipulated he did not like it. President Truman said the bill was anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic, but Mon-signor Edward E. Swanson, chairman of the National Catholic Resettlement Council, said that the bill was not anti-Catholic as at least 55 percent of the displaced persons to be admitted under it are Catholics.
The Jewish objection to the bill is that 30 percent of those admitted must be farmers and 40 percent must be from the overrun Baltic countries or from Eastern Poland. It also provides that 50 percent of the regular German and Austrian quotas must be exclusively available to the Volkdeutsche (persons of German origin).

DIET AND HEALTH

A Disease No One Need Have

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
SOME diseases can be prevented by such simple means that it is a pity if anyone ever becomes afflicted with them. Simple goiter falls into this category; that is, we have the knowledge and the method for warding it off if only we would take the trouble to do so.
The thyroid gland forms a secretion which is necessary for regulating the speed at which the body's basic activities proceed. This secretion contains iodine and if enough iodine is not furnished the body, the thyroid gland tends to enlarge. This condition is known as simple goiter. It is most likely to develop during periods of strain, such as the adolescent or maturing period. Moreover, studies have been made which show that the disorder occurs largely in areas where the drinking water contains little iodine.
Iodized Salt
Thus, since we know the cause of simple goiter, the time of life and the geographic areas in which the hazard is greatest, its prevention can be readily achieved merely through the routine use of iodized salt. Certainly, this usage should be encouraged, at least by young children and adolescents, particularly those living in so-called goiter belts. In addition, it is suggested that expectant mothers who make frequent use of preparations containing vitamins A and D have potassium iodide added to the capsules of these vitamins.
To make prevention doubly sure, routine examinations of school children should include examination of the thyroid gland to determine whether it is enlarged.
Development of Goiter
It was found that in those areas where the iodine content of the water was high, thyroid enlargement was rare. There would also seem to be some relationship between the hardness of water and the development of goiter. If the water is hard, even though it contains iodine, goiters still may occur.
Simple goiter can be corrected by taking iodine but a physician must decide the amount of iodine to be taken and in what form. In practically all instances, the supplying of iodine in this way will cause the enlargement of the gland to clear up. When there are lumps in the gland, the physician must decide whether there is a tumor growth present, in which case, of course, a different type of treatment is required.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
S. F. L.: What is bursitis? Is it curable?
Answer: A bursa is a sac containing fluid and located near a joint. Bursitis refers to inflammation of the bursa.
This disorder usually can be cleared up completely.

What had happened to him meantime, what did he think about, what was happening now? I wasn't very serious about it, just bored."
"Sam, get to the point."
"There isn't any point. I bought him a drink and we were pals. He discussed the state of the world for some time, quite brilliantly. He said he'd worked on a newspaper once, in Spokane. He told me his name, and it rang a bell. You'd told me about him, remember?"
"What else did he tell you?"
"His version of old, friendless man, who rediscovers his only child only to be repudiated by her and pensioned off by her capitalistic husband who forced him into signing an agreement. That was his copy which he was burning in the ashtray. He said he had made up his mind to go to a newspaper and sell his story. He would be happy to sell it to me."
She said, white, "He promised not to come back here, nor to get in touch with me. Brad was more than generous."
"That's what I told him," said Sam. "If someone would guarantee me a hundred bucks a week, I'd never beat feet again. I'd sit down in some shack on a Florida key, go fishing, and write the great American novel."
"Why did he come?" she wondered drearly.
"He'd blown the dough, next week's installment wasn't due, he couldn't draw ahead, besides, he found himself in New York when he should be in Chicago if he intended to get what was coming to him. He admitted that it had served him for room and board and occasional drinks. But he'd got into a poker game, given his IOUs and then thought the arrangement over. His original idea was to come here, see Brad, and demand an advance. He thought better of it on his arrival. The next idea was the newspapers. He admitted that he doubted if Brad could be scared into increasing the allowance, but he figured the newspaper would pay him enough so that he wouldn't need the allowance. Which leads me to believe he's never worked on a newspaper. There isn't a story big enough to provide a life annuity."
She asked, "Sam, what am I to do? If Brad finds out he won't give him another cent. And then he'll go to the papers."
"Do you care if he does?"
"Naturally I care, Brad says he wouldn't. I don't doubt it. But I have to live under the same roof as him, on the other hand, you. Copyright 1947, 1948, by Faith Baldwin Cuthrell. Published by Rinehart & Company, Inc.

THE ANSWER, QUICK!
1. What is a magazine rifle?
2. What is a secondary color?
3. With reference to votes, what is the distinction between a majority and a plurality?
4. Complete the following quotation: "The world is so full of a number of things."
5. What was the name of the king Queen Esther married?
YOUR FUTURE
The time is a bit on the slow and indecisive. Don't be too conventional. Prophecy says you may have a new and romantic friendship during the next 12-month period. Be alert to deception, however, remembering that "all is not gold that glitters." Concentrate on business during this time.
An eclipse tomorrow may give you unusual feelings now. During your next year you will experience happiness and prosperity. You will gain a great deal through older people, but keep a sharp eye out for any misrepresentation.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY
Today is the birthday anniversary of Ruth Gordon, actress and playwright; Pierre Bonnard, French artist; Henry Varnum Poor, American artist; Zoe Atkins, playwright; Ted Williams and Bill Terry, baseball stars.
Sunday, Oct. 31, President and General Chiang Kai-shek of China, Sarah Allgood, actress, and Ethel Waters, singer, rate our birthday greetings.

IT HAPPENED TODAY
On Oct. 30, 1945, Getulio Vargas resigned as president of Brazil, after a 15-year regime. On this date, 1758, George Washington received his first commission from Governor Dinwiddie of Virginia. Richard Brinsley Sheridan, English dramatist, statesman and parliamentary orator, was born on Oct. 30, 1751.
Nevada, the 36th state, was admitted to the Union on Oct. 31, 1864. The Girl Scouts of America was founded on this date in 1860, by Juliette Gordon Low. The Protestant Reformation is considered to have begun on Oct. 31, 1517, when Martin Luther posted his 95 theses on the door of the castle church in Wittenberg, Germany.

Inside WASHINGTON

Landslide for Dewey
Is Seen by Politicians
Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON—There is a growing belief in political circles that GOP presidential candidate Dewey will win Nov. 2 by landslide proportions approaching the late President Roosevelt's 1936 triumph.
In that year his opponent, former Gov. Alf Landon, of Kansas, received the electoral votes of only two New England states—Maine and Vermont.
A Dewey victory has been considered certain ever since the New York governor was nominated last June in Philadelphia, and the extent of the prospective victory appears to be growing daily.
Two factors are contributing to the unmistakable evidence that a Dewey landslide is in the offing.
The first is the president's cancelled plan to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson as a personal peace envoy to Stalin at the height of the UN conference in Paris.
This is considered by the experts to be one of the "prize boners" of the political campaign.
The second factor is the method being used by Mr. Truman in prosecuting his campaign.
There is a growing feeling that Mr. Truman has made all his campaign arguments too early in the game.
Mr. Dewey, on the other hand, is regarded as certain to be set to take the gloves off and play an all-out game during the campaign's closing days.

● SPAATZ BACK IN HARNESS?—The top air strategist of World War II may be back in active service soon.
Gen. Carl (Toohy) Spaatz, who retired a little while ago as commanding general of the Air Force, is being boomed for secretary of the Air if GOP presidential candidate Dewey wins Nov. 2.
As far as is publicly known, Spaatz has no politics, but high politicians on both sides regard his tactical knowledge and high reputation on Capitol Hill as invaluable assets to the nation in the present crisis.
Spaatz is no politician, that is for sure. He has pulled many a "boner" in Washington social circles because of his forthrightness. However, it was this same forthrightness which endeared him to congressional committees trying to find out what part of Air Force appropriation requests were vital and what part pork barrel.
Present Air Force Secretary Symington has done a fine job, but no one doubts that a change will be made with a switch to a GOP administration.
● STEEL EXPORT CUT—The Commerce department is getting ready to cut steel export quotas again despite the demand for steel abroad and the excellent opportunity that exists to capture Germany's pre-war steel markets.
This year steel exports are being reduced a million and a half tons. This will bring the total for 1948 to five million tons, or about 7.5 per cent of the domestic production, compared to 10.3 per cent exported in 1947.
Next year the slashing of the steel exports will be more difficult because of the accumulating momentum of the European recovery program. However, Commerce experts declared that, despite ECA, the slash will be made.
What they plan to do is to give top priority to Marshall Plan countries, and channel a much larger proportion of exported steel products to them. This means a sharp proportion for Russia and her Iron Curtain satellites and other non-participating countries. They will be lucky if they get any heavy goods at all from the United States.

Blasts Halt New Gas Line

DAYTON, Oct. 30—The fourth explosion in the last eight days halted the laying of a new gas line to Dayton today.
Officials of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. said the blasts occurred in Southern Warren Counties, as the company tested pipe it said was "inferior" because of the steel shortage.
One of the blasts blew a section of pipe on to a road 100 feet away.
Labor's Guns May Defeat 5
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—Five GOP House labor committee members reportedly are threatened today with possible defeat as a result of labor's drive to unseat Taft-Hartley law supporters.
Those whose seats are endangered are Reps. Landis, Indiana; McCowen, Ohio; Schwabe, Missouri; Kersten, Wisconsin; and MacKinnon, Minnesota.

Halloween Parties Top Social Events In County This Week

Cub Scouts Entertained

Halloween parties dominated the list of social parties given in Pickaway County this week.

Cub Scouts and guests of Den No. 1, Pack No. 11 were entertained at a Halloween party Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Agin of 426 East Franklin street.

A group of 18 children enjoyed games and refreshments. Assisting the host and hostess was Mrs. J. E. Goeller. The following were present:

Tommy Valentine, Terry Agin, Mike Davis, Donald Garrett, David Henkle, Jim Arledge, Jerry Starkey, Dick Rader, Bob Moeller, Connie Workman, Carol Heiskell, Joe, Judy and Mary Ellen Goeller, Luanna and Linda Dresbach, Penny Young, and Toni Agin.

Juvenile members of Mt. Pleasant Grange held a Halloween party Friday evening.

Refreshments for another Grange meeting were served by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Paul Counts and Mrs. Floyd Shaw.

William Brown, master, presided at the meeting in social rooms of Mt. Pleasant church.

Third and fourth degrees were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bush.

Family Circle of Trinity Lutheran church held a Halloween party Friday evening in the church parish house.

With the house festooned for the Halloween season, Miss Ellen Clark of East Mill street, Friday night entertained her Sunday school class of junior girls of the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. McClellan Clark, Mrs. Lawrence Stonerock and Mrs. V. H. Young. Approximately 25 members of the class and three extra guests were present.

Prizes were awarded to Margaret Davis, Nancy Arledge and Marthabell Peters.

MATERNITY DINNER COSTUME combining a black taffeta dress and short-sleeved jacket, from the autumn and winter collection of a New York designer. Bodice of the dress is cuffed across the top and has wide shoulder straps. Waistline is adjusted with hooks and eyes and has a sash in back. Black wool bolero is dotted with non-tarnishable gold yarn, and is interestingly buttoned—and unbuttoned—on the diagonal.

Women Hear Alaska Report

Group B of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian church met Friday evening in the home of Miss Florence Dunton with Mrs. W. L. Mack serving as assistant hostess.

Devotionals were conducted by Miss Dunton which was followed by reports from the secretary and treasurer. Mrs. C. B. Lair read a report on "Our Beachhead in Alaska."

Following the business meeting, the ladies enjoyed a social hour and refreshments.

street were Dr. and Mrs. William Kling of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. William Corne of Newark.

Household Hints

Use cold starch for very sheer materials or for small pieces like collar and cuff sets, baby clothes, etc. Cold water starch will permeate the fabric satisfactorily and it will also save your time.

When you are buying new electrical equipment, be sure to look for the Underwriters' Laboratory seal. This seal guarantees safe performance.

In choosing a new lipstick, it's good to remember that ivory-toned complexions are nicely set off by warm golden reds. If your skin has a pink hue, try a bluish red, and for a medium-toned skin, a clear red is a good selection.

Divide one cup shredded coconut into three parts. Tint each part a delicate color—pink, green and yellow for example. Toss together and sprinkle over top and sides of cake while frosting is still soft.

Keep a clean glass ash tray on top of your kitchen range. It is ideal for holding spoons being used for stirring. This technique keeps the stove top from getting stained.

For horse-radish beet relish, combine 2-3 cup prepared horse-radish, 2 cups fine-chopped cooked or canned beets, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tsp. salt and 2 tbs. fine-chopped onion. Place in a glass jar. Cover with vinegar. Let stand 6 hrs. before using.

Plain vegetables such as carrots taste very nice when braised. To do this, peel and slightly brown the vegetables; then add soup stock (or water and a bouillon cube) to almost cover, and simmer until tender.

For best results with most cakes, grease the pans, then line them with one or two thicknesses of waxed paper which has also been greased. Do this in all recipes unless otherwise directed.

Yam-sweet potatoes are excellent cooked with meat. Try paring them, cut in halves and cook on top of the steak when it is put on to simmer.

Hunt Is On For Bowl Game Teams

Best Outfits Will Be Absent

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The funniest post-season football game to be played New Year's Day will be the one in the Rose Bowl between the Pacific Coast Conference champions and a second rate team from the Big Nine.

Due to that strangely mercenary contract which now governs the Rose Bowl game, the visiting team must be from the Big Nine, but no team can represent the Big Nine two years in a row. This eliminates Michigan, which played in the bowl last season.

This also means that the Big Nine representative will be a team which has lost at least one game and possibly several more. And it won't be the Big Nine's best team. That's Michigan.

The coast's representative most likely will be California, with Oregon in the running.

The other bowl promoters will choose their teams from the rest of the nation beyond the boundaries of the Big Nine and the coast conference, and they have started their hunt.

TULANE figures to wind up in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl against Nevada or some other outlander. The best team in the South apparently is North Carolina, which will wind up in some bowl.

The Orange Bowl in Miami needs a pair of elephants as does the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. North Carolina will fit nicely into one of those spots.

One guess is as good as another on the teams likely to wind up in the Orange Bowl, but the winner of the Southwest Conference title will be the host in the Cotton Bowl.

This team probably will be Southern Methodist.

The surest thing about these tentative selections is that any one or all of them can fail to make a bowl. It's about time for upsets to begin popping up. The good teams have had a chance to get a little too cocky.

Wauseon Calls Off Defiance Tilt

DEFIANCE, Oct. 30.—Claude Henkle, Defiance high school manager of athletics, announced today that Wauseon has cancelled its football game with Defiance Monday night.

Henkle said that Wauseon officials advised him that parents of 14 boys on the Wauseon team had refused to allow their boys to play in Defiance but have offered to meet Defiance at Wauseon.

The Defiance athletic board turned down that proposal. The Wauseon-Defiance tilt originally was scheduled Oct. 15 but was cancelled owing to the polo situation on the Defiance area.

Temple Notches Initial Win

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Temple university finally bounced into the win column today with a 20-0 victory over Bucknell.

The win, which was the first for the Owls this season after a tie and four defeats, also gave Temple possession of the "Old Shoe," a trophy honoring the memory of alumni of both schools who were killed in World War II.

and the weak sisters are getting a little weary of having their ears knocked down around their heels. The latter will enthusiastically rise up and smite down a stronger foe, and what do you have? An upset it's called.

Through it all, the two teams which appear to be the very best in the nation Notre Dame and Michigan—will not be in any bowl game.

NOTRE DAME doesn't go in for the post-season business.

Michigan can't go back to the coast because it played in the Rose Bowl last year, and the team is bound by the Rose Bowl-Big Nine agreement not to play anywhere else.

Army may rank with the best before the season is over, but also will not indulge in the bowl epidemic.

Neither will Navy, nor the eastern Ivy League and a few scattered eligibles around the country, but there will be enough teams to man all the bowls, well over a dozen of them from coast to coast.

Navy May Not Win Many Games, But She Still Takes On Irish

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—Mister Roberts would have liked the Navy kids, who are going to tackle Maestro Frank Leahy's "invincibles" from Notre Dame at football in Babe Ruth Stadium this afternoon. The old bambino would have liked them, too. Everybody likes 'em.

They don't win many. Indeed, they haven't won a game now in ten tries, the last five last season and five this. And today they'll likely hit the natural eleven. But they keep hustling somebody's bustle all the time. So that one of these days they'll win one.

For the folks up at West Point, most writers have high regard and deep affection. But they must admit a preference for the Navy attitude toward its annual Notre Dame game to the Army's strategic withdrawal from its own traditional tilt with the Irish.

Navy has made it plain that even if "the master" from South Bend should gridiron a squadron of Sherman tanks, it will fight 'em on the ground and in the air, in front of the goal posts and behind 'em.

Thus, though Army's football forces still are unbeaten, which they may well remain to season's end, and Navy's still are uncrowned with victory, and also may remain so, you can't escape the feeling that West Point has lost a little in gridiron standing.

No matter how friendly your feeling may be to Earle Blaik and his Black Knights it's impossible to get away from that feeling. However sound West Point's reasons and however little it really is anybody else's business, they have put themselves in the position of ducking the big test.

In the same troubled waters, meaning its inability to meet ND on an equal footing, Navy has taken the other tack, and gained a certain amount of prestige doing it.

Seemingly an old billy goat, which is the Navy mascot, doesn't recognize any odds. Whereas Army's mule has laid down his ears and bolted for a distant pasture.

Jack Spoils Briton's Debut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Beau Jack, former world's lightweight champion, is credited today with a three-round technical kayo over Eric Boon, ex-British welter and lightweight titleholder.

Jack spoiled Boon's American debut Thursday when he gave the British fighter such a beating that the referee stopped the match after one minute and 21 seconds of the third of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Canton '11' Leaves Little Doubt About State Crown; Alliance Falls

By International News Service
The Canton McKinley Bulldogs left little doubt today in the minds of Ohio scholastic football fans—except those in Butler County—as to why they are considered the state's leading high school eleven.

Coach Bup Bearick's Bulldogs, voted the No. 1 team in this week's INS poll, unleashed a furious ground attack and rolled to an easy 46 to 7 victory over Alliance before 25,000 fans in Canton's Fawcett 46 Stadium.

Alliance was ranked second and at one time during this season was in first place in the INS poll. However, in racking up their seventh straight win of the season, McKinley handed the Aviators their first setback in the same number of games.

The margin was so convincing that the annual McKinley-Massillon game will now come up as McKinley's biggest test in the drive toward the mythical state championship.

All other teams voted in the state's "top ten won easy victories" last night. Fourth-ranking Hamilton turned back Portsmouth in the River City, 34 to 12, and fifth-ranking Toledo Waite defeated neighboring Devilliss, 20 to 6.

Third-ranking Middle town plays Columbus East tonight and should have an easy time against the state capital school.

Massillon, knocked off by Alliance a couple weeks ago, continued on the comeback trail last night with a 39 to 14 win over Warren.

Gallipolis, the undefeated Ohio river school now ranked ninth, turned in its seventh straight victory—a 33 to 0 rout of Jackson.

Other top ten teams won games played Thursday night. Newark turning back Coshocton 14-6, Martins Perry trouncing East Liverpool 13-7, and New Philadelphia swamping Bellaire 44-0.

Other top games last night saw Akron St. Vincent defeat Akron South, 19 to 6; Lancaster edge a once highly rated Ironton eleven, 7 to 6; and Mt. Vernon chalk up its seventh straight win at the expense of Wooster, 27 to 23; Mansfield topple Dayton Kiser 62-7; and Washington C. H., currently locked in a battle for top honors in the South Central League with undefeated Circleville, continued its own lossless streak by tripping Cincinnati Norwood, 12-7.

AAA Chieftain Details Workings Of Corn Loans In U. S.

Questions, Answers Are Given

Any Farmer Said Eligible

John Boggs, Pickaway County Agricultural Adjustment Administration Chieftain, Saturday gave solution to the many pressing questions concerning corn loans.

Boggs said he had copied a list of the more frequent questions posed to him by county farmers and had set down a list of answers to those queries.

Most frequent question Boggs has to answer is "who is eligible for a corn loan?" Answer to that one is the easiest of them all, since any producer of corn in the county may apply.

Other questions posed are:

Q. Where can corn loans be procured?

A. Producer must make request at AAA office in the county where his farm is situated and in which his corn is stored.

Q. How must the corn be stored?

A. For loans, corn is stored in cribs with good floor and roof. For purchase agreement, either farm or warehouse.

Q. What grade and moisture specifications are acceptable?

A. Ear or shelled corn, yellow or white, grades 1, 2, 3 or 4 on test weight. Maximum moisture content for ear corn is 20.5 percent, for shelled corn, 13.5.

Q. What is the cost of a purchase agreement?

A. One-half cent per bushel and three percent interest for time corn is under loan (minimum $3).

Q. Why is the loan rate set at $1.49 for Pickaway County?

A. The law provides that the Commodity Credit Corporation support corn at 90 percent of parity. The $1.45 Pickaway County loan represents the 90 percent parity as of Oct. 1, 1948.

Q. What is parity?

A. Parity is the price a commodity should be today to give the producer the same purchasing power he had in normal times.

Q. Who should apply for a purchase agreement?

A. The Producer who wants price protection but does not need money now. He is assured that if the market remains below the county loan rate until September 1, 1949, he can then turn eligible corn over to CCC and receive $1.49 per bushel.

Q. Is the corn price supported for the farmer who does not take a loan or sign a purchase agreement?

A. Only indirectly, and to the extent that holding corn off the market prevents market gluts and corresponding low prices.

Q. What happens if the price of corn goes above the county loan rate before September 1, 1949?

A. The Producer with a loan notifies County office when he wants to sell. County office computes amount due to pay off loan. Producer is then free to sell corn. Producer with a purchase agreement can sell his corn whenever he wishes without making any request to AAA office.

Q. What happens if the price of corn remains below county loan rate until Sept. 1, 1949?

A. Under the Loan Program, CCC will accept corn to satisfy the loan and interest. The Producer will need to shell the corn and deliver to elevator. Under a Purchase Agreement the producer notified County AAA Office during month of September, 1949, how many bushels he wants to deliver (not in excess of amount specified in the agreement) and delivery instructions will be issued. Producer will be paid the loan rate of $1.49 per bushel. The corn delivered must grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 on test weight only.

Q. Is insurance on corn required?

A. Not required. Loss or damage occurring without fault or negligence of the producer will be assumed by CCC. However, it is the responsibility of the producer to maintain cribs in good repair and keep the corn in good marketable condition.

Q. Are price supports responsible for the current food prices and the high costs of living?

A. No. Actually, the assurance to farmers that prices of certain commodities would be supported for two years following the war, has removed fear of a repetition of the farm price decline that followed World War I. Many present day farmers still remember that in 1920-21 farm selling prices dropped 50 percent in less than 12 months. Price support has helped to obtain all out production. Consumers have gained from this abundance. Abundant production has prevented the prices of farm products from going even higher.

It should be remembered that price supports are geared to parity prices and parity prices change with changes in prices paid by farmers. Support prices are higher this year than they were last year because farm production costs are higher. Support prices would be lower if prices paid by farmers were lower.

Q. Why is the loan rate set at $1.49 for Pickaway County?

A. The law provides that the Commodity Credit Corporation support corn at 90 percent of parity. The $1.45 Pickaway County loan represents the 90 percent parity as of Oct. 1, 1948.

Q. What is parity?

A. Parity is the price a commodity should be today to give the producer the same purchasing power he had in normal times.

Chinese Reds Claim Big Gain

NANKING, Oct. 30.—The Chinese Communist radio claimed today the annihilation of 12 Chinese government divisions, "including four American-equipped armies," which had been allegedly surrounded in South Manchuria.

The broadcast made a point of the fact it was announcing the claim on what it termed "the eve of the American election."

It said the dozen Nationalist divisions had been trapped in the Tahushan area west of the Red-encircled Manchurian metropolis of Mukdin.

Western Money To Win, Claim

BOWLING GREEN, Oct. 30.—Vice-President Paul E. Belcher of Akron First National Bank predicted the Berlin currency situation would grow worse before Western money won out.

Belcher explained however, that the good money of the Western Powers eventually will drive out the bad marks of the Soviets because whoever controls good money controls the economy.

French Laborites Blaming Commies

PARIS, Oct. 30.—French non-Communist miners' unions addressed messages to American labor leaders today emphasizing that the present crippling mine strikes are political in nature and inspired by Communists.

The non-Communist unions include the Force Ouvriere and the Christian Federation. Their messages were addressed to William Green, president of the AFL; Philip Murray, president of the CIO; and John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America.

Bricker Lashes 'Clumsy Demos'

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Sen. John W. Bricker, (R) Ohio, urged today the "dismantling" of the Democratic administration which he termed a "clumsy super-structure."

The junior senator from Ohio declared that "this governmental monstrosity in itself is sufficient to wreck our economic system."

Bricker defended the Taft-Hartley Act here last night as a measure which had emancipated labor from "those who would exploit it for selfish purposes."

The steel industry has put motors into wheelbarrows, and uses them to haul concrete.

HIS RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF
This office was cited in 1942 and 1943 by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce as having the best record in the state, for similar size counties, of turning in to county treasurer the most money in comparison with expenses. In 1947 we turned in to Treasurer almost $3000.00 above all salary expenses. The first 10 months of this year are ahead of last year.
This office was cited by the Sales Tax Division of the State of Ohio for having the most complete index for automobile titles of any of the sixty-six counties that they had visited up to November 1947. Because of this index they were able to go through and examine over fifty thousand titles in three days while they had expected it to take them two weeks.
This office was cited by a well known firm of Columbus, Ohio, Attorneys as having the most complete Partition records of any county they had ever visited.
This record will be continued if you elect A. L. (DICK) WILDER for CLERK OF COURTS.

TELEPHONE SERVICE
When attempting to recall the operator after completing a long-distance call, depress and release the switch-hook or cradle plunger on your telephone instrument... continuing that action slowly and rhythmically until the operator comes back on the line. This will give a series of long flashes on the switchboard lamp to attract the operator's attention to your re-call signal.
Too fast operation of the switch-hook does not permit sufficient contact to complete the electrical circuit necessary to light the operator's lamp signal on the switchboard.
